The GCIP is excited to share lessons and reflections from its pilot year, focused on how a program that engages three very different Clarkston-based community partners and students from multiple institutions can best serve both those community partners and their unique visions for the community, as well as student learning outcomes focused on cultural diversity, global citizenship and social equity.

Launched in 2020 and housed within the Atlanta Global Studies Center (AGSC), AGREC is currently comprised of six universities:

AGSC, a partnership of Georgia Tech and Georgia State University

Emory University's Office of Global Strategy and Initiatives (GSI)

Agnes Scott College's SUMMIT Center for Global Learning and Leadership Development

Spelman College's Gordon Zeto Center for Global Education

Kennesaw State University's Division of Global Affairs

AGREC seeks to build and strengthen collaborative networks of multi-institutional scholars and practitioners to support global research and education initiatives in the Greater Atlanta region.
