

Understanding Chinese perceptions of climate change through social media

» Date:

April 18, 2018

1:00 pm

» Location:

Georgia Tech

Stephen C. Hall Building

Room 102

Matthew R. Auer is Dean and Arch Professor of Public and International Affairs at the School of Public and International Affairs, University of Georgia (UGA). Prior to his appointment at UGA, Auer served as Vice President for Academic Affairs and Dean of the Faculty at Bates College in Lewiston, Maine. Prior to Bates, Auer was Dean of the Hutton Honors College at Indiana University (IU) and Professor of International Environmental Affairs at the School of Public and Environmental Affairs at IU.

Auer has authored or co-authored more than 50 peer-reviewed articles and book chapters on environmental, energy, and foreign aid policy. Auer has had policy roles in a variety of US and foreign agencies and organizations.

Matt received his Ph.D. in forestry and environmental studies from Yale, a master's of law and diplomacy from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, and an A.B. in anthropology from Harvard University (1988).

Matthew R. Auer

Dean of the School of Public and International Affairs
Arch Professor of Public and International Affairs
University of Georgia

Light Refreshments Provided

Contact for details:
alan.marco@pubpolicy.gatech.edu

Georgia Tech

School of Public Policy

Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts