

The NNSA Graduate Fellowship Program is hiring highly qualified graduate students for fellowships in national security.

- ~60 positions spanning the NNSA enterprise
- One-year, full-time, salaried positions
- U.S. citizen eligible for a security clearance
- Enrolled in a master's or Ph.D. program or graduated on or after April 7, 2019
- Career interest in U.S. and global security

Apply online at: ngfp.pnnl.gov

Deadline: October 7, 2020 | 11:59PM PST

Certified Leadership Development

Specialized Training

Hands-on Assignments

Join the NNSA Graduate Fellowship Program

The NNSA Graduate Fellowship Program (NGFP) offers unmatched opportunities for graduate-level students to gain hands-on experience exploring careers across the NNSA enterprise. As part of the U.S. Department of Energy, NNSA is responsible for stewardship of the nation's nuclear weapons, nuclear nonproliferation, and naval reactor programs. Learn more about NNSA's exciting missions and opportunities at <http://nnsa.energy.gov>.

NGFP gives highly motivated, graduate-level students a full year of:

- Hands-on experience making significant contributions to and preparing for a career in national security
- Participation in the NNSA Aspiring Leadership Certification Program
- Specialized training, leadership and career development, and networking
- Collaboration with professionals and leading researchers nationally and internationally

Fellows receive a salary plus benefits, including:

- $53,300 salary ($63,550 post-docs) plus $4,000 hiring incentive (taxed)
- Additional travel and training funding
- Healthcare and paid vacation/holidays
- Tuition reimbursement (restrictions apply)

To apply to join our fellowship:

Submit the NGFP application, letter of interest, résumé/CV, and at least 2 letters of recommendation at <http://ngfp.pnnl.gov>. Applications for fellowships beginning June 2021 are due October 7, 2020.

