

REDESIGNING CITIES

The Speedwell Foundation Talks

@ Georgia Institute of Technology

“REDESIGNING CITIES: The Speedwell Foundation Talks @ Georgia Tech is a series of talks and conversations between leading urbanists that address 21st Century challenges. We are proud to formally kick-off Season 2 in partnership with Georgia Tech’s Smart Cities and Inclusive Innovation initiative with the 2019 winners of The Newsweek Momentum Awards.

The Newsweek Momentum Awards celebrate the people and cities propelling the world toward an environmentally sustainable, socially equitable, economically viable future of autonomous mobility and smart urban environments. Come hear from the five individual 2019 winners and representatives of this year’s “smartest city in the world.”

Oct 22

Episode 9: Redesigning Cities for Smart Mobility and Inclusive Innovation: The Newsweek Momentum Award Winners

Live Free Event

October 22, 2019 @ 6:00 PM

The Historic Academy of Medicine
875 West Peachtree Street NW, Atlanta
Reception from 7:30 - 8:15

Check out Season One’s podcasts and videos:

<https://arch.gatech.edu/redesigning-cities-speedwell-foundation-talks-georgia-tech-0>

New podcasts coming soon:

Episode 7 - Redesigning Cities with Carbon Pricing and other Markets on Externalities | Josh Margolis, Dan Matisoff and Ellen Dunham-Jones

Episode 8 - Redesigning Cities’ Investments in Transportation Infrastructure | Chuck Marohn, Kari Watkins, and Ellen Dunham-Jones

All are welcome! Please rsvp to help us anticipate attendance at:

<http://smartcities.gatech.edu/hg/item/627242>

School of Architecture
Smart Cities and Inclusive Innovation

Podcast & Video: STAY TUNED

These events will be recorded + turned into podcasts + videos. Your attendance acknowledges your permission to be recorded.