

Pre-Grad Events Fall 2018

GRFP Application Workshop

Friday, 12 October, 2:30-4:30

Mason 1133

Students considering applying for an NSF Graduate Research Fellowship (GRFP) are invited to a GRFP Application Workshop Friday, 12 October, 2:30-4:30, in Mason 1133. Students should bring three copies of their NSF GRFP personal statement and three copies of their graduate research statement to exchange and review, using the NSF Merit Review criteria. By reviewing applications together, students will better understand how real panelists will review application materials.

2018 Graduate School Fair

Tuesday, 16 October, 11:00-1:00

Student Center Ballroom

Please join us for the 2018 Graduate School Fair, Tuesday, October 16, 11:00-1:00, in the Student Center Ballroom. We will host more than 50 programs from Georgia Tech and around the nation. Learn more about the fair and the participating graduate programs at our web site: <http://career.gatech.edu/graduate-school-fair>.

NEW! Personal Statement Workshop

Monday, 22 October, 3:00-4:00

Naugle Comm Lab, CULC 447

Students who want to learn more about writing an effective personal statement (a.k.a. "statement of purpose") should plan to attend an upcoming workshop co-hosted by Pre-Graduate Advising and the Communication Center, Monday, October 22, 3:00-4:00, in the Naugle Comm Lab, CULC 447.

Personal Statement Boot Camp

Tuesday, 23 October, 5:00-8:00

Skiles 202

Students having trouble getting started (or getting finished!) on their graduate school statement of purpose should come to the Personal Statement Boot Camp, Tuesday, October 23, 5:00-8:00 in Skiles 202. Registration is required for this event. Sign up, here: <https://b.gatech.edu/2DNsryu>.

Graduate Application Information Session and Grad Student Panel

Tuesday, 30 October, 5:00-6:00

Clary Theatre, Bill Moore Student Success Center

Students considering graduate school should plan to attend the Graduate Application Information Session and Grad Student Panel, Tuesday, October 30, 5:00-6:00, in the Clary Theatre in the Bill Moore Student Success Center. At this session, students will learn the how-tos of creating an effective application and then have the opportunity to learn about the graduate application process and the experience of post-graduate education from current GT grad students.