

Naming Our Own SuperPower: Resilience Over "Othering"

May 21, 2021, 1:10 to 2:20

Racism, sexism, homophobia, xenophobia all create adverse circumstances that can require the ignition of our resilience. This session will feature a panel discussion where presenters will describe strategies they have used to claim their own identities and find their personal power.

Moderated by:

Dr. Carla Bradley
Director, GT Counseling Center

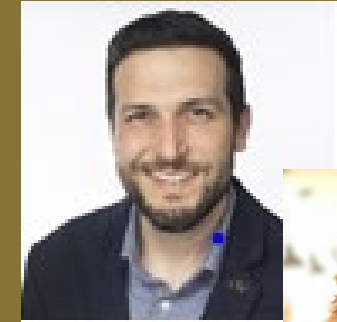

Dr. Carla Moore
Assistant Director of Outreach,
Georgia Tech Counseling Center

Panelists Include:

Juan Archila
HOLA Employee Resource Group

Dr. Tammy M. McCoy
GRIOT Employee Resource Group

Emma Blandford
Pride Employee Resource Group

For more information, please contact Carla Bradley at carla.bradley@studentlife.gatech.edu.
To register: https://gatech.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_3qRxHkBoUs1Gmy0

This event demonstrates our GT Values to nurture the wellbeing of our community, celebrate collaboration, and thrive through diversity. This event is sponsored by the Resilience, GRIOT, HOLA and PRIDE Employee Resource Groups.