

URBAN NATURALIST CERTIFICATE

Saturday May 15th-Sunday May 16th

A virtual career building and networking opportunity for students interested in Natural Resources and Conservation careers.

SATURDAY MAY 15TH

Module 1, 10am: Urban Pollinators

- Supporting Bees in Urban Areas: Dr. Jennifer Leavey, Georgia Tech
- Urban hive tour: Reggie Davis & Tyree Thornton, Truth Honey

Module 2, 1pm: Urban Agriculture

- Reckoning, repair, and regeneration: A case for the need to move beyond "sustainable": Dr. Bradford Baker, Georgia Tech
- Growing greenhouse mushrooms: Michael Blackwell, Kennesaw State University

SUNDAY MAY 16TH

Module 3, 10am: Wildlife Management

- Overview: Dr. Emily Weigel, Georgia Tech
- Where the Foxes Are: Ben Seleb, GeorgiaTech
- Bird Safe Glass: Shan Arora& Adam Betuel, Georgia Tech

Module 4, 1pm: The Human Role

- Examining our heat island: Dr. Evan Mallen
- Man made wetlands and the urban environment, Johns Creek Environmental Center tour: Kelli Edwards, Fulton County Public Works

Attendance through all four modules is required for attaining certificate

Register here:

