

Join us for a sneak peak at the upcoming PBS documentary on Design Thinking!

- WHAT: Extreme By Design* film screening
Q&A panel with the filmmaker and a panel of experts
- WHEN: Tuesday, November 5, 7:30-9:15pm
*Refreshments will be served at 7pm
- WHERE: Clough Undergraduate Learning Commons, Room 152
The Georgia Institute of Technology

The Film

Extreme By Design is an inspiring documentary that follows a group of Stanford University business, engineering, and medical students as they design innovative products and services to solve problems of the world's poor as part of the Design for Extreme Affordability course. The film will air on PBS on Dec. 11 at 10 pm (check local listings).

Evening Schedule

- 7:40 - 8:45 pm- Introduction and Film Presentation
8:45 - 9:15 pm- Panel Discussion
Prof. Özlem Ergun- Co-Director of the Health & Humanitarian Logistics Center,
Mary Cantwell- Mt. Vernon Presbyterian School's Center for Design Thinking,
Scott Sanchez- VP of Innovation at First Data, and filmmaker Ralph King.

How to RSVP

This event is complimentary for students and educators. Pre-registration is appreciated. To RSVP, visit <https://www.eventbrite.com/event/8956082885>.

Questions?

Please email Meghan Smithgall at meghan.smithgall@isye.gatech.edu or call 404-385-1432.
Parking and Directions: <http://www.ssc.gatech.edu/directions.php>.

This event is hosted by the Health & Humanitarian Logistics Center in the H. Milton Stewart School of Industrial & Systems Engineering (ISyE) and the GA Tech Chapter of Engineers Without Borders, and it is sponsored by SAP, a maker of enterprise application software.

