

JOIN US FOR THE FREE GEORGIA TECH NIGHT AT THE WOODRUFF ARTS CENTER!

Thursday, February 7, 2013 5:00 PM- 8:00 PM

GET READY FOR A NIGHT OF CULTURE

- FREE Catered Reception

- Alliance Theatre: Good People & Bike America

Good People, A funny but fierce Broadway hit and Tony Award® nominee about fate, class divisions and identity written by Pulitzer Prize winner David Lindsay-Abaire and directed by Susan V. Booth.

Bike America captures the restlessness of a millennial generation that will go to any length to find a place that always seems just out of reach.

- Atlanta Symphony Hall: Milos/Tchaikovsky "Love"

Adored Tchaikovsky works frame the charismatic artistry of Montenegro's Milos (Karadagic)

- High Museum Exhibits:

Gogo: Nature Transformed

This exhibition explores the role the natural environment plays in shaping the jewelry and home wares created by Georgia designer Gogo Ferguson.

Hard Truths: The Art of Thornton Dial

The most extensive survey of Thornton Dial's art ever mounted. Depicting the tragedies and triumphs of humanity, he moves the discourse of contemporary art-making into new territory and offers an unflinching vision of the world that invites us to examine even our hardest truths

IT'S EASY TO GET TO THE WOODRUFF

Stinger buses will be driving a circuit between the Student Center and the Woodruff.
