

Announcement of the 60th Anniversary Student Aid Fund

City Planning education began at Georgia Tech in 1952, and is being celebrated this academic year 2012-13. The Architecture Building also opened in 1952 and Industrial Design also formalized its program the same year.

We are planning our 60th Anniversary celebration March 1-3 with an exhibition of alumni work in the newly refurbished Stubbins Gallery, reflections by alumni, tours of campus and Atlanta planning highlights, and a gala evening at the Georgia Tech Hotel.

We are taking this occasion to establish the 60th Anniversary City Planning Student Aid Fund. We hope that you will consider participating/ contributing to this initiative. Our students have accomplished a great deal in this past year and there is no greater priority than attracting and retaining the best and brightest students to the School. Student financial aid in the form of fellowships, assistantships and otherwise, is the means to do so. More details will be announced at the celebration.

Please consider a contribution to build our profession and support an aspiring planner.

Contribution Form

The School depends on private donations to provide student financial aid, educational enrichment, and professional outreach that cannot be supported by state budgets. We are indebted to alumni and friends who help to ensure the quality of what we do through private giving.
